HENDERSON JOURNAL

Assigns to O. V. B. & T. Company.

The Journal Company, publisher of the Henderson Evening Journal, gave a deed of assignment Wednesday to the Ohio Valley Banking and Trust Company, for the benefit of its creditors, says the Gleaner. The assignor turns over to the assignee all its property, including the machinery and the newspaper itself, and it is probable that the publication will be continued under the management of the assignee.

Several days ago Edward A. Jonas was reported as having resigned the editorship of the Journal and placed the management of the plant in the hands of C. E. Dallam and others.

DROPS DEAD.

Father of James Hyland, Jr., Succumbs Without Warning.

Mayfield, Ky., July 24.—Jas. Hyland, aged 75 years, died suddenly at his home, three miles north of town. After breakfast it was his intention to go over to the home of a neighbor, Pat Thomas, and he had just stepped out upon the front porch when he dropped dead.

He had been living in this section for the past twenty years, and was a well-known citizen. He leaves an aged wife and two sons, Bertie Hyland, of this city, and James Hyland, of this city, but who is now working in Hopkinsville.

A grand stand is being put up and a force of men is getting the diamond and grounds into proper condition. The stand will be built along the third base line to get the best shade.

The season will open with two games with the Russellville team Monday and Tuesday, which will be called at about 3:30 o'clock. This team is backed by a $1,000 merchants' fund and is made up largely of professionals, but the locals are hopeful of showing them a thing or Another Incendiary Fire Destroys Boxcar Office at Otter Pond.

DEPOTS MAY NOT BE REBUILT

Gano Warder, Former Gracey Marshal, Arrested On Night Rider Charge.

As a result of the destruction of three of their depots by night riders, the Illinois Central railroad Wednesday afternoon issued orders that no trains should be run on the Hopkinsville-Princeton division of the road that night. The accommodation passenger train, scheduled to leave here for Princeton at 6:25 o'clock, went out a full hour earlier.

Strict orders were also issued to all crews that all bridges and trestles should be carefully examined before the trains should pass over. The destruction of the depots at Otter Pond, Cerulean and Gracey Wednesday morning was followed by the burning early Thursday morning of the boxcar at Otter Pond used as a temporary station by the agent, S. J. Lester.

The details of this outrage have not yet been received. The box car was burned during the night. Another one was taken to Otter Pond Thursday and was not noticed that night. The regular schedule interrupted was resumed Thursday night, though a very slow run was made, the 6:25 train not reaching Princeton until 10:05. There are no telegraph offices over this line of 31 miles and there was some apprehension felt until the safe arrival of the train was reported.

Sept. A. H. Egan, of the I. C., was here Thursday and said no immediate steps would be taken to rebuild the depots burned. Box cars will be used until conditions become settled.

It was strongly intimated that the question of withdrawing trains altogether from this division was to be seriously considered in the event of further outbreaks.

The conditions were improved yesterday and no troubles have been reported for twenty-four hours. Another small detachment of soldiers from Madisonville has been added to the detail at Cobb.

GANO WARDER ARRESTED.

County Judge C. O. Prowse issued a warrant Thursday for the arrest of Gano M. Warder, charging him with confederating for the purpose of injuring a person or persons in the Hopkinsville raid. He is already under indictment for confederating to destroy and destroying property, and has been under bond of $1,000 since shortly after he was arrested in June. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Boyd and taken to jail in default of a bond, which was fixed at $1,500 by Judge Prowse.

J. G. Gord, one of his bondsmen, also withdrew from the $1,000 bond.

TROOPS CAME BACK

FIGHT FOR NEGRO VOTE

Mr. Bryan Outlines a Part of His Campaign Policy.

BUSY DAY AT HOME.

Urge Colored Leaders to Start a General Movement For Him.

Lincoln, Neb., July 24.—The determination of the Democrats to capture the negro vote of the country was further emphasized today when William J. Bryan told a delegation of negroes from Lincoln that it was his desire that they should get in touch with their brethren everywhere, and particularly in Ohio, and agree upon a line of campaign in behalf of the Democratic ticket. The men who called were Adam Loving, for many years a leader of Repudican negroes in this city; R. K. Battlo, W. D. Grant and Frank Williams, who have organized a Bryan and Kern negro club.

Not for some time has Mr. Bryan spent such a busy day. His callers numbered over 100 and with many of them the political situation was canvassed. He informed them that in his opinion the Democrats of the country never before presented such a solid front, but that they must continue to keep on the firing line until the very day of election.

that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Gastric Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only specific for this disease. It is the most powerful and safe remedy to the medical profession.
Gastric Catarrh is a constitutional disease
and requires a constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the system,
thus destroying the disease from the inside out,
and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred

IMPROVED MASK.

Good Thing for Motorists,
Night Riders and Others.

Automobilists who have felt that "goggles" did not afford them all the protection they required from dust and wind now have a device to fall back on? This is a mask which covers the entire head, and, as it was invented by a New Jersey man, it is fair to assume that he also had in mind its usefulness in resisting the attacks of mosquitoes. The mask is made of a piece of flexible fabric that can be rolled or folded into a small compass. It has openings for the eyes, nose, mouth and ears, and it fits under the cap in such a way as to cover the hair. Elastic strips are attached to the body piece back of the head, and the flexible nose piece holds the mask in position and keeps it from moving about on the face of the wearer. The eye openings are covered with glass, but the bottom edge of the nose piece is free to permit breathing. The openings for the ears are sufficiently small to prevent the ears from slipping through.
The bottom of the mask is long enough to permit of its being tucked in the coat. For winter driving in stormy weather, such a face protector could be made of some waterproof material.

Announcement.

It is the pleasure of the Managers and Directors of the Hopkins County Fair Association to thank in advance the friends and patrons of the Association for the very hearty co-operation given us in the development of what portends to be a grand and successful Fair.

The people may arrange to visit
the Fair this year with every assurance that all that is possible will be done for their convenience, entertainment and pleasure. To accomplish this purpose, attractions that are chaste, refined and meritorious have been secured, and it will be the endeavor of the management to exclude all that is undesirable or offensive.

The Association pays especial attention to its premium list in all its various departments. In the premiums for Agricultural products
every farmer in this section can find something attractive. In what is familiarly known as the Ladies' Department, comprising household fabrics, pantry and dairy supplies, ladies'
handiwork, fine arts and painting, every lady in this vicinity may easily find some premium for which it is desirable to compete.

Everyone is cordially invited to contribute a specimen of his or her products, skill and ingenuity, so as to make our annual reunions at the Fair an epitome of our accomplishments and advancements in Agriculture, Manufacturing and Art.

With an era of unprecedented progress upon us, with the gates of opportunity wide open before us, with all hands busy taking advantage of the opportunities, we await with most pleasant anticipations our meeting with you and your co-operation with us at the greatest of all Fairs—the Fair of 1908.

POLICEMAN'S FATE.

Killed a Boy Accidentally and Died a Prey to Remorse.

New York, July 23.—Police-man Alfred Nathaniel Shuttleworth, of Brooklyn, is dead. Although the physician's certificate will give particulars as the cause, all who know the facts say Shuttleworth died of remorse and of a broken heart.

Ten months ago he accidentally shot and killed a boy who was resisting arrest. He was indicted by the grand jury, suspended from duty, shunned by his old friends and ostracized by his neighbors.

Vindication came last May, when District Attorney Elder, after a thorough investigation of the facts, moved for a dismissal of the indictment.
Restored to duty, Shuttleworth did not take fresh heart, but my strange ill luck, or bad judgment, he was assigned to the very post on which the tragedy had occurred.

To go back to the old post, haunted with bitter memories of this tragedy was hard, but Shuttleworth did it without a word of protest, and day after day, as he walked his post, men and women would point him out as "the cop who killed a boy."

On June 12 Shuttleworth reported sick and never left his home again.

WOMAN IS BEHEADED.

Only Eighteen Years Old, but
a Deliberate Murderess.

Freiberg, Saxony, July 22.—Grete Beier, the 18-year-old daughter of the Mayor of Friedburg, was headed last night some time between dark and dawn in punishment for the murder of the man to whom she was engaged to be married.

The executioner of the young man reached the city last night. He carried a thin, long box containing the ax with which he did his work,
and brought with him also a handbag with a suit of evening clothes.
The wearing of this garb is an official requirement for the sombre occasion. The preparations for the execution had been completed, and the man did his work quickly and privately and departed from Friedberg as quietly as he came. The executioner is an anonymous person, sent down here from Dresden on the instruction in November, 1909.

announcement that the King of Saxony had refused to pardon Grete
Beier for her crime.

The personality of this young girl
and her thoughtfully arranged murder of her fiance, a civil engineer named Preller, attracted much attention.

Don'ts for Fat Folks.

Here are the don'ts for fat folks who would prefer "fitter" during the last months.

Don't drink water, don't eat rich foods, don't indulge in spirituous liquors, don't eat candy, don't lie in the hammock in short, don't take it easy or eat what you like at a meal. Don't sit around all day.
Ten walks, eat starchy food, drink little and sleep
seven hours or less—no more. If you don't fancy that program, adopt the "Detroit Idea." Eat what you like from the Michigan Caviar Company.
The "Detroit Idea" is certainly a blessing to the fat. In the first place, it is inexpensive; second, it is perfectly harmless, and third, no dieting is necessary—you can eat what you like. Never eat meat, fish, fowl, eggs, butter, cream, cheese, ice cream, cake, pie, etc. These are all fattening foods. Sinple, isn't it? You can eat, drink and sleep as you please this summer and yet be just as slim as you like without any chance of injury to your health or your lazy bones.

FALL FIFTY FEET.

Workmen Fall From Scaffold
During Mass.

St. Louis, July 22.—While children were singing a requiem during morning mass at the new St. Francis de Sales church two workmen fell fifty feet to the ground near the feet of the Rev. Dr. Holwek, who was celebrating the mass, and one was killed and the other probably fatally injured.

Joseph Bahan, thirty years old,
died instantly. His skull was crushed.
Robert Powers, twenty-four years old, sustained serious bruises and internal injuries. The two men were plastered, and their scaffold broken. They took one-half hour to get to the hospital. Powers was sent to the Hospital and at 11:30 a.m. died from his injuries. The other was sent to the Hospital and at 12:30 p.m. died from his injuries. Both men were working on the scaffolding.

In Judge Reed's District.

Paducah, Ky., July 23.—The Democratic Executive Committee of the Second Judicial district, composed of McCracken and Marshall counties,
has called a primary for November
3 to nominate candidates for Circuit
Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, to be filled at the regular election in November, 1909.

SCHOOL PER CAPITA

Fixed at $3.60 By Superintendent J. G. Grabe.

Frankfort, Ky., July 24.—The largest school per capita ever known in Kentucky has been fixed by Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. G. Grabe. The per capita for this year is $3.60, which is twenty cents higher than it was last year, and last year was the high water mark. The increase in school children is 4,755. Prof. Grabe has been at work on the figures from which he computes the school per capita for some days and completed the task only late this afternoon.

The following is the statement issued by Prof. Grabe:

The State school fund (estimated) distributed for the payment of teachers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, amounts to $2,661, 667.20.

The per capita is declared $3.60.
The per capita last year was $3.40;
this year is an increase of 20 cents,
hence this per capita for the year 1908-09 is the largest in the history of the State.

The school census, showing pupil,
children, reports as follows:

Pupils in counties 587,051

Pupils in cities 152,300

Total 739,352

The school census last year was 734,617 pupils. This year the increase is 4,735 pupils.

He further alleges that his injuries were due to the carelessness and negligence of defendant.

OUTING AT CAVE FOR BALDHEADS

Club Takes an Automobile Excursion to the Country.

GOOD TIME FOR ALL.

Some Happy After Dinner Speeches and Gems of Poetry.

A pleasant surprise was in store for the Baldheads Club when it met in called session yesterday.

Just why the meeting should have been called in the daytime was made clear when President Champin announced that a trip to the country was the order of the day.

Automobiles were soon puffing in place, under the direction of Cols. Buck Leavell and Lem McKee, and as soon as the vehicles could be loaded, the train of horses and carriages sped away over the pike to a romantic spot in a beautiful grove, "Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife."

The site was an ideal one. Underneath an overhanging bluff was a wide and capacious cavern, fifty feet in width and almost as deep. On one side the cavern narrowed into a passage way that extended for perhaps a mile back under the hill. A stream of water crossed this cave, dropped to a lower level and emerged just outside the large entrance as a spring of delightfully cool water.

Beyond the spring in front of the cave stretched a pretty little valley, through which the spring branch wound its way and disappeared in the forest. All around were the primeval forest trees, under whose overhanging boughs the Red men pitched their tepees more than a hundred years ago.

Here in this natural bungalow the Club was to hold its meeting and initiate half a dozen new members and drive dull care away and devote the day wholly to pleasure.

President Champin was in his glory. A beaming smile irradiated his capacious features, a resplendent sunflower adorned the lapel of his coat and the glad hand was extended to every one.

Col. Buck Leavell was a committee of one to look after the barbecue meat that had been roasting for several hours over a fire on the hillside.

Col. Ed Peyton presided at a tin tub full of lemonade such as he alone can make.

Col. Bill Howell had come in from Caledonia and was soon back in the dark recess of the inner cave, rehearing by the light of a tallow candle, one of his celebrated impromptu speeches to be delivered extemporaneously after dinner.

Col. Ward Claggett, who had not attended for a long time, was there with his polished dome of thought a close second to Col. Joe Twyman's

in the absence of his host.

Col. Chess Pyle was prancing around like a two-year-old colt in a field of April clover.

It would not be fair to tell all that was done while the appetites were being whetted, but as high noon approached the odor of roast meat smote the air and soon there was something doing.

After dinner there were many happy speeches and some bran new things were gotten off, including

Col. Bill Howell's poem on the Democratic candidates, which was as follows to wit and appears herewith:

Don't think I'm wicked

But I don't care a darn

For any old ticket

But Bryan and Kern.

Col. Howell received so much applause that Col. Ike Hart ventured

the opinion that Barnaby Kuppen couldn't beat it, and wound up by offering to give $4.99 to any man who could compose and recite a poem

half as good.

Col. Walter Southall said he could do it with both hands tied behind him and the cavern walls resound-

I mean no offense
But my boy Herman
Has got more sense
Than Taft and Sherman.

Col. Lem McKee said the trouble about Col. Southall's poem was that it seemed to deal in taffy for Herman and not for Taft.

Col. Ed Peyton then propelled the following gem full upon the aural nerves of the enraptured auditors:

Look out for the coming landslide,
And mind which way you turn,
It's moving at a 240 gait;
Straight for Bryan and Kern.

President Champin ruled Col. Peyton's poem out of order, because it was impossible to tell whether he meant that Bryan and Kern were going to be caught up on the landslide or run over by it.

Col. Peyton said the ambiguity of the effort was its chief merit. The poem was composed under a bi-partisan administration.

At this point several Colonels were on their feet claiming recognition, to recite poems, but President Champin said the contest had developed into an unprecedented exhibition of cruelty to animals and after finding Col. Hart $10 for starting the meeting, he declared the meeting adjourned. Col. Hart survived the fine and is doing as well as could be expected.

BOWSER FEUD IS OVER

Samuel and Mother-in-law Have Sincere Reconciliation.

HOW IT ALL CAME ABOUT.

Trouble in the Past Had Been Due to Misunderstandings—They Beg Each Other's Pardon and Promise Never More to Offend.

[Copyright, 1908, by J. C. McCall. Mr. Bowser had run into a neighbor on the other evening after dinner, and Mr. Bowser sat smoking and reading when there came a ring at the front door. He waited until it was repeated and then went down the hall with his mind made up to throw the trap off the steps. As the door opened he saw his mother-in-law waiting. It was the same woman, with the same scatich. He started back and began to glare at her, and to his amazement she smiled and held out her hand and said:

"Howdy do, Sammy? I hope you are glad to see me."

"No. She's just gone into Green's for a little while."

"Then I'll just go down and help myself to a bite to eat. Don't you put yourself out. Are you feeling well, my son?"

"Yes, pretty well. You—you didn't write that you were coming."

"Nope. I just got ready and came right along. Fact is I wanted to see you and have a little talk with you. We'll have a chat after I have something to eat."

She went down to the dining room, and Mr. Bowser sat down to think. The relations between him and his mother-in-law had been strained for almost twenty years. She had arrived on a visit many, many times before,

NEVER AGAIN, SAMMY, WILL I CALL YOU A BUM.

But never to call him Sammy and ask after his business. On the contrary, as we all know, she has been known to play the bulldozer and the tyrant and make him feel his helplessness. On numerous occasions he has tried to throw off the yoke, but never with success. What did her arrival portend? Why that smile? What was hidden behind that "smile"?

Mr. Bowser determined to be on the safe side, and he was about to make a sneak outdoors when a voice came up to him:

"Oh, Sammy, don't get impatient! I'll be with you in five minutes."

He felt himself turning pale and his hands red. He had to get out and secure him on his next scheme to start on ostrich farm? Did she hear that he wanted to sell the house and lot and go into squares? Had any one told her that he stood ready to go on a search for the north pole? If not, that was she going to call him a scoundrel and a villain and break up his home by sending that her daughter get a divorce?

Made Up Mind to Fight.

It was a bad ten minutes that Mr. Bowser spent with himself, and he had just made up his mind to fight to the last gasp when the mother-in-law came upstairs. She was still smiling, and extended her hand for another shake and then sat down beside him and said:

"Yes, Sammy, I'm real glad to see you again. I've been doing lots of thinking about you since New Year's. I wanted to come down then, but I wasn't quite arranged. Did you say you would like to see me?"

"If you pitch into me I shall answer back."

"Pitch into you, Sammy? Why should I do such a thing as that? Why should I pitch into my favorite son-in-law?"

"I guess you're right. You can afford me a heartless beast and did you want me to understand that you ran this house and me too. The time before that you drew the ax on me and made me stop tinkering with the furnace."

"I did? Why, I don't remember anything about it. If it was so, then I beg your pardon. I'm sure you are the last man on earth whose feelings I should want to hurt. Did Sam say anything about the letter from me two weeks ago?"

"Yes; I believe she did say something, but I didn't pay much attention."

" Didn't she tell you that I said I was one of the best husbands on earth and that I hoped she appreciated you?"

"No."

"I must speak to her about it. May be she thought it wouldn't do to praise you too much. I never can be thankful enough for the good such a good husband. Sammy, you noticed a bottle of claret on the sideboard. You might step down and take a nip."

"But the last time you were here you called me an old bum because I took a nip."

"I was just an old woman's way, you know. Now, why, I should like to hear any one refer to you as a bum in my presence!"

Mr. Bowser felt weak and wobbly, and he went down and took a nip—two of 'em. When he came up again, the mother-in-law reached for his hand and said:

"Yes, Sammy; I got to thinking on New Year's day what a good man you were, and I found myself feeling sorry that I had ever said anything to hurt your feelings. I came this time to beg your pardon and promise to be a different kind of son-in-law thereafter. Can you overlook the past, Sammy?"

"Do you mean that you didn't come down here to bulldoze and blow around?" he asked.

"Why, Sammy, how could I think of such a thing?"

"Once when I bought a pig, you said I didn't know as much as a boy ten years old."

"Then I must have been crazy. I'd take another nip if that claret if I were you."

Mr. Bowser went down and took another nip—two of 'em.

"I'm not a bad man, things, Sam," said the mother-in-law as he returned. "I have made up my mind to begin this year right."

"I bought some chickens, and you said I hadn't the brains of a grasshopper."

"I'm not possible?"

"I wanted to clean house once as you came here, and you picked up the butcher knife and ordered me out. You said you would as soon murder me as not."

"Upon my word, but I must have been crazy."

"I suppose you told Sarah right before me that if you am your poor hot head into his ears while he slept."

"Then I ought to have been sent to an asylum. Say, Sammy, there's a bottle of claret on the sideboard."

Mr. Bowser went down and saw that she was correct, and he took a nip—two of 'em."

Begged His Forgiveness.

"Sit right here, and we'll hold hands and talk," said the mother-in-law as he came back in a meeting mood. "I want you to forgive me if I ever hurt your feelings."

"I will."

"I want you to know that I think you are the best man on earth."

"Thanks."

"And I want you to think me the best woman."

"I do."

"Never again, Sammy, will I call you a bum. I'll agree with I draw an ax on you. Never again will I threaten you with the butcher knife or say that you haven't the brains of a grasshopper. I want love and peace and harmony between us. I want the whole world to know how proud of you I am. Sammy, let us sing:

"For he's a jolly good fellow—"

Mr. Bowser went down for another nip—two of 'em—from the bottle, but found it empty. He therefore put on his hat and overcoat to renew the supply. He saw two mothers-in-law and went out of two doors. There were two gates, but he had to climb a fence, for when he turned up against two fences to think it over. Pretty soon what seemed like two policemen came along, and both of them said to him:

"Well, old cock, what are you doing here?"

"My name's Bowsher."

"Well?"

"Mother-law has come down to see me."

"Yes?"

"And shay, she's er best old gal in all this world. She begs my pardon—I beg her, and—"

"She's a jolly good f-e-l-i-o-w—"

"She's a jolly good f-e-l-i-o-w—"

"Shay, officer, put me in my liddle bed and tell everybody that I died of much happiness!" M. QUAD.

"Also 1/2 interest in 7 acres of land conveyed to H. C. McCord, and J. B. McCord by Cyrus M. Brown, sheriff of Christian county, as shown by Deed Book 62, at page 65 of said clerk's office.

"Also 2 lots in Crofton as shown by Deed Book 69, page 95 of said clerk's office, and one 1/2 interest in a lot in Crofton as shown by Deed Book 54, page 239 of said clerk's office.

Mrs. W. L. Bailey, living on East Greenville street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "It is four years since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through our papers, and my confidence in them during the time which has elapsed has not been shattered in the least, but to the contrary, I learned more about them and can recommend them even more strongly. I said at that time that Mr. Bailey had suffered with kidney complaint off and on for a number of years, and had used almost every remedy for this trouble but nothing brought permanent results. I finally learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box. They benefited him in every way, more so than all other kidney medicines he had ever tried. He has used them many times during the past four years, and they have never failed to give him relief from these severe attacks. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for a weakened condition of the kidneys and they proved just as satisfactory in my case. We both think there is no remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills. Why High Grade Employees Prefer Private Positions.

One of the first results of the semi-unionized ownership of trolleys in Cleveland is the feeling of high grade employees that they had better look for positions which are not hampered or handicapped by political interference. BISHOP POTTER

Died After Long Illness Last Tuesday.

Cooptown, N. Y., July 21.—Henry Codman Potter, seventh Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of New York, died to-night at "Fernleigh," his summer home here, after an illness of several weeks. The Bishop was unconscious all day, and the end, which came at 8:35 o'clock to-night, was peaceful and quiet.

The prelate was 74 years old.

Bishop Potter caused a great stir throughout the country several years ago when he took part at the dedication of the Subway Tavern on Bleeker street, New York. It was the plan of those interested in the tavern to conduct an establishment where all intoxicants would be served under regulations which would promote temperance and by example improve the tone of the saloon. The Bishop made an address in which he said he hoped the tavern would prove a success. After an uncertain existence, the tavern failed.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some parts of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. W. L. Bailey, living on East Greenville street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "It is four years since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through our papers, and my confidence in them during the time which has elapsed has not been shattered in the least, but to the contrary, I learned more about them and can recommend them even more strongly.
